

ready has taken place, with further naval losses. This, however, is denied. A subject of increasing discussion is the attitude of the Chinese population to the Russian troops stationed west of the Siberian Railway at Lauyang and Simintun. It is regarded as significant that large supplies of military stores have been received at these two places by the Chinese. The Siberian Railway is said to be still intact.

JAPANESE TROOPS MAY HAVE LANDED NEAR PORT ARTHUR

PARIS, March 1.—The last passenger train has gone south on the Port Arthur division of the Manchurian Railway, says a dispatch from Harbin to the "Matin." Henceforth passenger carriages will be attached to the military trains, and civilians going toward Port YIN KOW, March 1.—Twenty-five thousand Russians are on the Chinese bank of the Yalu, and 4,000 mounted infantry troops and artillery hold the mountain passes thirty-five miles south of Wiju. The Chinese are circulating a rumor to the effect that the Japanese have repulsed the Russians at Yum Cheng (Korea), east of Yomgampo. A few thousand Russians remain at Niuchwang.

Arthur will travel on trains conveying troops. The "Matin" adds that from the ambiguous tone of the cable message as to the arrival of trains at Port Arthur, it seems doubtful whether the port is not completely blockaded by the Japanese, both by sea and land.

PORT ARTHUR COMMANDANT SAYS THERE IS NO WAY OUT

MOSCOW, March 1.—Port Arthur rivets the anxious attention of the Russians. General Stoessel's order to the troops of the fortress has aroused great enthusiasm. It has also brought home to the Russians the tremendous significance of Port Arthur in the general strategic plans of Russia.

The Japanese attempt to block the entrance of the harbor evoked in the Russian press sarcastic comments on Japanese cunning, and the miscarriage of the enemy's plan was pointed out as a signal testimony to the preparedness of Port Arthur. The opening of hostilities on land is awaited impatiently.

JAPANESE VOLUNTEERS WRITE THEIR APPLICATIONS IN BLOOD

TOKYO, March 1.—Admiral Togo, commanding the fleet which is at Port Arthur, reports that his call for men to take in old steamers in an attempt to block the entrance of the port was instantly responded to by 2,000 officers and men, some of whom, following the time honored Samurai custom, wrote their applications in their own blood. It is stated that it formerly took half an hour to enter the harbor at Port Arthur and that the passage now occupies two hours, for which reason it is believed that the blocking operation was partly successful.

WARSHIPS AT VLADIVOSTOK UNPREPARED FOR ACTION

TOKYO, March 1.—A British vessel reports that four Russian warships and two transports were in the harbor of Vladivostok last Tuesday. There were three feet of ice in the harbor. The ships were unprepared for action. The Russian consul and his suite left Fusan yesterday for Moji. They were provided with a Japanese escort. It is reported in Sasebo that two of the transports sunk by the Japanese at the entrance to Port Arthur harbor greatly obstruct the passage.

RUSSIA THINKS PORT ARTHUR ABLE TO WITHSTAND ASSAULT

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—Although Port Arthur is blockaded, there is not the slightest anxiety here, in spite of the reported landing of 60,000 Japanese troops at Gensan.

The marked change of tone of the English press is noted here with satisfaction, but the same sentiment is not extended to America, the latest intimation from Mr. Hay being to the effect that if Russia will not grant an exequatur to the new United States consul in Manchuria he will apply to China for it. Should China be foolish enough to assent to the efforts of the United States to install the consul, the Russian military governor, in view of the situation, will refuse to admit him. On the best of authority it is said that this is the course Russia would adopt, and it would be well if the American public was made fully aware of the false position which might arise should the Administration carry out any further its policy of trying to "rush" matters. At this moment Russia's patience is fast becoming exhausted by the series of highly irritating actions on the part of Mr. Hay.

PRINCE POSES RUSSIA AS "GREAT LIBERATOR"

SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 1.—Prince Ferdinand is quoted as having intimated in a private conversation that Bulgaria should be the ally of Russia.

"Bulgaria," he is quoted as saying, "is giving too much help to the Macedonians. We should do more to render material assistance to Russia, who is wounded by the Russian war. We must remember that Russia is our great liberator."

HOSTS OF RUSSIANS ALONG YALU RIVER

TIENSIN, China, March 1.—According to information received here, there are at present 25,000 Russian troops concentrated on the banks of the Yalu River, while ten regiments of mounted infantry and some artillery hold the mountain passes thirty-five miles south of Wiju, in Korea.

REPORTS OF CRUELTY BARRED IN CHINA

LONDON, March 1.—The Tientsin correspondent of the Central News wires that the editor of the Peking and Tientsin "Times" has been ordered by Chinese military authorities to cease publishing the reports of Russian cruelties, evidently fearing that the reports would inflame the popular mind against Russia.

PRINCE LOUIS NAPOLEON.

Descendant of the Prisoner of St. Helena, who is soon to join one of the cavalry divisions of the Russian army in Manchuria.

Prince Louis is the second and younger son of Prince Jerome Bonaparte and Princess Clotilde of Savoy, and grandson of Prince Jerome, King of Westphalia. When the Franco-Russian alliance was formed, he went to St. Petersburg and joined the Czar's army with the rank of lieutenant.

The Czar took a great interest in the descendant of Napoleon. His advance was rapid, he finally being given command of the Empress's Lancers. Prince Louis' life has been purely military one. He is an accomplished linguist, and among the many languages he speaks he is master of French, Italian, and Russian. To anyone who does not know him he is a pure Slav, resembling greatly the Cossacks, whose fiery eyes and resolute features he possesses.

Prince Louis' trump card is that he is an officer in the Russian army. As Russia has become popular in France, his chances of ascending the throne of the latter are improved materially.

At the time of the Dreyfus scandal, when politics was so disturbed, he was considered the most eligible candidate and was the favorite of the people for the throne of France. He is also the favorite of the Empress Eugenie, and it is said that at her death he will inherit the whole of her immense fortune.

Prince Louis wedded the Grand Duchess Helene, a cousin of Nicholas II, in 1901.

CZARINA A ZEALOUS FRIEND OF SOLDIERS

Uttering in Her Efforts to Provide Comfort for the Troops—Red Cross Funds.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—The Czarina is uttering in her efforts to provide comfort for the troops going to the Far East, and funds for the Red Cross Society. A well-organized department is now working at the Hermitage adjoining the Winter Palace, where patterns and materials for every kind of warm clothing are issued to ladies to take home and make up. The American, English, and other ladies are just as enthusiastic in this work as the Russians.

The greatest success was scored by the young Czarina in the opening of the exhibition of historical art objects, at one of the museums here, the proceeds of which will go to the Red Cross Society. Tickets of admission were sold by the Princess Belosselsky, mother-in-law of the Czar, and other ladies of high rank. It is reported that the Czarina, but many people paid a great deal more. State Secretary Palovitsky, one of the richest in St. Petersburg, paid $5,000. Their majesties, the diplomatists, members of the higher nobility, and all the fashionable people were present.

The accountant will report the result of his investigation to the committee, and the latter will then hold a meeting to take action on it.

REPRESENTATIVE HULL WINS IN DES MOINES

Seven Hundred Policemen on Duty at Republican Primary.

DES MOINES, March 1.—Returns from twenty out of forty-one precincts in yesterday's Congressional primary, indicate a decisive victory for Representative Hull over Judge S. F. Prouty. The result was wholly unexpected, even by Hull, in view of the fact that Prouty controlled the election machinery.

Last night Mayor Breton engaged in a fist fight over the election with H. H. Harrah, coming out victor. He weighs 400 pounds.

Seven hundred special and regular policemen were on hand at the various voting places to preserve order. The extras had been sworn in at the request of both factions.

Building Inspector Ashford Disappointed in Getting Pictures of Fallen Walls in Baltimore.

Building Inspector Ashford, who has been engaged for the past ten days in preparing a report to be submitted to the District Commissioners, showing the lessons taught in fire-proof construction by the Baltimore fire, has been hindered in his labors by the discovery that some of the photographs he took of the ruins are unserviceable. The reason for this is that some of the places in which he stood to take the pictures were so hot that the films in the camera were melted while he was in the act of obtaining the photographs.

Although the report will not be submitted to the Commissioners before Wednesday next, one feature of it will be an expression of opinion that his observations of the ruins in Baltimore have strengthened Mr. Ashford's faith in "fire-proof" construction. It is ascertained that there are a good many of the fire-proof ruins in Baltimore that can be repaired and made as strong as before by the expenditure of about 30 per cent of their original cost.

MONEY FOR CLEARING POTOMAC OF ICE

In the House today Representative McCarley obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of a bill to appropriate $25,000 for the purpose of clearing the Potomac River of ice.

Reserving the right to object Mr. Madrox of Georgia asked why the Government appropriated money to clear the Potomac River of ice any more than the Ohio or any other stream.

Mr. McCarley said an appropriation of $5,000 had heretofore been made for that purpose, but owing to frequent freezes that had taken place that had been inadequate. The Commissioners, he said, had asked for $5,000 more, but the committee had limited it to $3,000.

The purpose was to clear the river to navigation, but to prevent the ice from becoming clogged at the Long Bridge and causing a flood. It was proposed to limit the work to the District of Columbia, which was District property.

FAIRBANKS' CALL AROUSES TALK

But Merely Discussed Legislation With President.

PLATT ALSO AT WHITE HOUSE

Conference on Empire State Politics Suggests That Factions Are Working in Harmony.

The presence of Senator Fairbanks at the White House this morning had the usual effect of promoting speculation on the Vice Presidency. Senator Fairbanks denied that his call had anything to do with this or with Indiana politics, and said he had come to talk over legislation with the President.

There is reason to believe the President looks on Mr. Fairbanks as a good running mate. To his friends, however, the President has said within the last few days he does not propose to take any hand in the nomination of a candidate for Vice President. He said he would leave this matter entirely alone and let the convention settle it.

Senator Platt, fresh from the scene of Governor Odell's triumph in New York, came to the White House early this morning. He admitted he had a long conference with the President on Empire State politics. Further than that he vouchsafed no information. While there are mutterings from New York to the effect that the Platt contingent will have its inning at the polls, many shrewd politicians think this unlikely. They believe there is a pretty definite understanding between Platt and Odell, and the President, and that the factions are more nearly united than supposed.

Which Book Shall I Send

And to Whom Shall I Send It?

That is all I ask—just a postal card. Just the sending of a penny to aid a sick friend. He will be your friend—and a stranger to me. Yet, if you merely tell me his name I will gladly do this:

I will arrange with a druggist near him so he may take, six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I will let him test it a month to prove what I claim. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself.

And the sick one's mere word shall decide it. Could I meet you—could I see him—could I would forever convince you that I have what these sick ones need. More than that: I have what without which most of them can never get well. I would overwhelm you with evidence—irresistibly convincing. You would go away telling all your sick friends about it.

But I can meet only a few, so I have put what I know in six books. And I take this means to ask you who needs such a remedy as I at my risk, and I will pay, or you can pay, just as you decide.

Could you meet me, I believe you would willingly take my word. But you cannot—so I take yours. I trust to your honesty. Make the test at my risk, and I will pay, or you can pay, just as you decide.

White now, today, Dr. Shoop, Box 8766, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured with one or two bottles. At druggists.
